

Moscow And U. S. Sure To Clash In Treason Case

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—American officials foresaw today a new clash between Russia and the western powers growing out of the treason trial and conviction of Cardinal Mindszenty in Communist Hungary.

Authorities predicted the clash will come when the United States and other western nations try to call Hungary to account for its actions against the cardinal. Whether the scene is the United Nations or otherwise, they expect Russia will immediately spring to the defense of its satellite state.

North Of Ireland Votes On Republic

Store Windows Smashed In Slam-Bang Parade

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Feb. 10 (AP)—The Irish of Northern Ireland went to the polls today to decide whether they want to stay in the United Kingdom or join Southern Ireland in a republic.

A heavy turnout—running as high as 90 percent in contested districts—was predicted. Polling hours are from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. (4 a. m. to 3 p. m. EST), but the votes won't be counted until tomorrow. More than 500,000 ballots may be cast.

All police were on call in event of trouble. Flamboyant parades last night ended a slam-bang campaign in which stones and bottles were thrown at political rallies and store windows were smashed.

Twenty-eight years ago the six counties of Northern Ireland (Ulster), mainly protestant, refused to join the 26 predominantly catholic counties of Eire, or southern Ireland and stayed with Britain. There have been two Irelands since.

The issues of race and religion cropped up in the campaign just ended. Many in Northern Ireland are descendants of Scots and Britons who came here 300 years ago.

About 800,000 of Northern Ireland's 1,300,000 population are Protestants. The rest are Catholics. There are more than 2,750,000 Catholics and fewer than 200,000 Protestants in Eire.

The leader of the Nationalist anti-partition group is James McSparran, a leading attorney and a Catholic.

Farmington Banker Resigns State Job Held Since 1939

Lansing, Feb. 10 (AP)—Howard M. Warner of Farmington, state corporations and securities commissioner, has submitted his resignation to Governor Williams, it was learned today.

Warner will return to the banking business in his home town.

The only commissioner to serve more than one term since the office was created in 1935, Warner was first appointed Sept. 20, 1939, by the late Governor Luren D. Dickinson. He has served continuously since.

The son of the late Gov. Fred M. Warner, he formerly was treasurer of the Republican State Central committee and an unsuccessful candidate for state treasurer in 1936.

Williams will have the opportunity to select a successor for the remainder of Warner's unexpired term, ending Sept. 20, 1951. The job pays $7,500 a year.

Chiang Creeps Back Into The News From Self-Imposed Exile

By FRED HAMPSON

Shanghai, Feb. 10 (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek who disappeared so completely from high councils of China that the populace was beginning to forget him is creeping back into the news.

So far the only word from the former chief of state who is in sort of self imposed exile has been second and third hand. Friends quote him as saying he enjoyed his happiest Chinese New Year by watching his grandchildren perform dragon dances and that he was through with politics and the government.

Other reports also second and third hand say he intends to visit Kulung Island near Amoy off the Fukien coast for further rest. Still other reports persist that he ultimately will go to Formosa.

The movement of troops considered most loyal to Chiang to the south coupled with an apparent rift between acting president Li Tsung-jen and other government leaders adds emphasis to rumors that Chiang sooner or later will turn up in Canton to head the fugitive government.

Chiang flew to a point near his native town of Fenghua in Chekiang province. One purpose was to visit his ancestral tombs on the Chinese New Year (Jan. 29). After 22 years as chief of state, Chiang's abrupt departure caused only one day of excitement. The war situation and peace moves shoved him off the front pages the next day even in Shanghai.

Newspaper men hurried from Nanking and Shanghai to Hangchow and by rickety taxis arrived 50 miles to Fenghua. There they found the retired generalissimo barricaded behind the baronial walls of his home on a hill beside a lake and behind the most complete military guard ever set up overnight in China. The news-men could not get near Chiang. They couldn't even get within sight of his residence.

Two Get Gallows In Gandhi Killing

By MARC PURDUE

New Delhi, Feb. 10 (AP)—Narayan Godse and Narayan Apte, editor and publisher of a small Poona newspaper, today were sentenced to die on the gallows for the assassination of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Five of the eight defendants were given life sentences. The aged politician, V. D. Savarkar, who had been described by the prosecution as the brains of the plot against Gandhi's life, was acquitted.

D. R. Badge, a ninth man arrested in the plot, turned state's evidence and was released at the end of the proceedings.

The sentences for the slaying of the 78-year-old Hindu spiritual and political leader on Jan. 30, 1948 were pronounced in the heavily guarded courtroom of Delhi's old red fort by special judge Atma Charan at the conclusion of an eight-month trial.

The defendants came into the crowded courtroom laughing and joking. When led from the room after the sentences were pronounced they began shouting, with Godse's voice sounding above the others, "We will conquer Pakistan. Long live Hindustan." Then they broke into loud laughter.

Sentenced to life imprisonment were:

Vishnu Karkare, hotel keeper at Ahmednagar.

Madan Lal Punjab refugee who admitted setting off a bomb at the assassination.

The ITU declared that while it is not completely satisfied with the administration's labor bill it is ready to accept the measure "on an experimental basis in the interest of speedy repeal of the Taft-Hartley act."

The administration bill, besides junking Taft-Hartley, would restore a modified Wagner act.

The ITU views were expressed by the union's president, Woodruff Randolph, in a statement prepared for the Senate Labor committee. Randolph was listed as the committee's first witness today under a revised program which continues the public hearings until Feb. 23.

Because of a big backlog of witnesses yet to be heard, the committee yesterday abandoned its original plan to close the hearings tonight.

The ITU has been engaged for months in a series of actions in the courts and before the National Labor Relations board, based on the Taft-Hartley law ban on the closed shop.

Prosecution Will Appeal For Stiffer Sentence

By ERNE MARTON

Budapest, Hungary, Feb. 10 (AP)—Josef Cardinal Mindszenty will remain in Budapest prison pending the appeal of his life sentence to the court of appeals.

A government informant said last night that the Cardinal may be transferred later to Vac prison, across the Danube from his Estergom palace.

The Cardinal was convicted Tuesday on charges of treason, plotting to overthrow the Communist government and engaging in black market deals in dollars. The prosecuting attorney, who had demanded a death sentence, objected to the life sentence. So the appeals court may increase the sentence, decrease it or order a retrial in the people's court which convicted him.

This appeals court, like the people's court, is a post-war creation. It is called the National Council of People's courts and is composed of five jurists. Four are appointed by political parties participating in the government and the fifth is named by the minister of justice.

Weary Crews Battle Western Snowdrifts As Food Runs Short

Some Isolated For Weeks; 29 Trains Stalled

(By The Associated Press)

Food and fuel shortages became critical in some communities in the snow-locked western states today as weary rescue crews battled new wind and snow storms.

Human suffering mounted. Emergency measures were stepped up to rescue hundreds reported isolated—some for weeks.

Rail lines and highways over a four-state area were blocked by huge snow drifts, leaving thousands of persons stranded. Twenty-nine passenger trains, carrying some 6,000 travelers, were stalled.

Conditions in Wyoming were reported to be the most critical since the first blizzard struck the state Jan. 2. Eleven Union Pacific passenger trains were stalled in the state. Ten others were snowbound in Utah; five in Nebraska, and three in Idaho.

Blizzard Continues

Fresh gales out of the Gulf of Alaska roared out of the Pacific Northwest last night, hitting north central Idaho and moving into northern Utah and Wyoming. The strong winds, blowing the mountainous piles of snow over newly cleared highways and rail lines, were expected to extend into Nebraska and the Dakotas by tonight, the U. S. Weather Bureau said. The area has been hit by severe wind storms since Sunday.

Ground transportation was virtually halted in several parts of the blizzard belt but most aerial operations continued. Food supplies were flown to stranded rail passengers at Green River, Rock Springs and Casper, Wyo. At Medicine Bow, Wyo., the storm was so intense yesterday the National Guard weasels—built for snow operations—were halted. The army and Red Cross placed Sinclair, Wyo., on the "critical" list.

As the new storms swept into Idaho, several families were reported isolated without food and fuel at Rockland. Trucks stalled on snowblocked highways were believed to be carrying at least $100,000 worth of perishable goods.

Colder weather hit Nebraska and northern plains states. But despite the sub-zero temperatures the Fifth Army's blizzard operations continued. The army moved some additional snow fighting equipment to Wyoming and emergency rations will be flown to isolated persons "if necessary." At Omaha, Fifth Army headquarters announced it had established a relief supply center at Cheyenne, Wyo.

Coffins Stacked Up As Chinese Demand Ship Death Awards

Shanghai, Feb. 10 (AP)—Relatives of victims of the Kiangyia ship explosion disaster stacked empty coffins in front of the China merchants steam navigation company today.

It was the relatives' way of demanding 5,000 gold yuan (about $4, U. S.) for each bereaved family and 125 bags of rice for each person drowned.

The Kiangyia exploded and sank in the mouth of the Yangtze in December with a loss of more than 3,000 lives. The company has refused to recognize claims until salvage of the steamer is completed.

Madison Man Told To Leave Hungary Inside of 24 Hours

Budapest, Hungary, Feb. 10 (AP)—A ranking official of the American legation here said today Hungarian authorities had asked that Robin Steussy, vice consul and third secretary of the legation, leave Hungary within 24 hours.

Hungarian authorities said Steussy, whose home is in Madison, Wisconsin, helped Hungarian subjects get out of the country.

The 24-hours expire this afternoon.

JUDGE RAPS TOY

Detroit (AP)—Recorder's Judge W. Mc Kay Skillman charged today Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy "apparently has ants in his pants." Skillman was commenting on remarks Toy made about local dance halls prior to a scheduled trial of two taxi dancers. Skillman postponed the trial, saying that Toy's remarks would prejudice the jury.

WIDOW GETS $35,000

Detroit (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. was ready today to pay $35,000 to the family of a workman killed in a plant accident. The sum was agreed upon in an out-of-court settlement with Mrs. Irene O'Connor, 46, of Royal Oak, mother of five children.

Fabulous Russian Spy Ring Seen As Menace To World

BOY SPEARS HUGE STURGEON—This is no fish story. And to prove it 14-year-old Samuel McGuegle, Cheboygan High school freshman, has this picture to prove it. It took the young fisherman 20 minutes to spear the 76-inch, 110 pound fish while ice fishing on Mullet Lake Saturday. The fish was taken about a mile off shore at Aloha on Mullet Lake in what is supposed to be the best sturgeon waters in the state.

Sweden Maps Her Own Defense Policy

Stockholm, Feb. 10 (AP)—Sweden, cooking an eye for signs of any Russian move in Finland, laid down a defense policy today aimed at delaying any aggressive attack by any power until outside help could arrive.

The principle was announced in a foreign policy debate yesterday.

Meanwhile, the Danish parliament was told by Julius Romholt, chairman of the Danish lower House, that "in the ideological war we are on the western side."

The ambassadors of both nations called on Secretary of State Dean Acheson in Washington yesterday to outline views of their governments on Scandinavian defense. The talks were held in connection with the projected North Atlantic alliance, current bone of contention in the East-West cold war.

Sweden, with a history of 135 years of strict neutrality and peace, has unsuccessfully plugged for a Scandinavian defense agreement taking in Denmark and Norway. Norway turned this proposal down on the grounds it wouldn't offer sufficient security. A Norwegian delegation is now in Washington investigating the Atlantic pact.

Denmark's position has not yet clarified. There were some indications that, regardless of Swedish opposition to getting tied up with the Atlantic agreement, Denmark might follow Norway in joining in the Washington discussions where the Atlantic alliance is being hammered out.

When he was arrested with three others in a narcotics raid on a secluded Laurel canyon cottage last Sept. 1, Mitchum feared he was washed up in movies. However, soon afterward, Variety magazine reported that one of his films, "Rachel and the Stranger," was number one at the box office.

RKO studio is halting production of Mitchum's latest picture, "The Big Steal," until the star gets out of jail. He may be released in 50 days, for good behavior.

At the county jail where he was fingerprinted, mugged and fitted with jail denims, Mitchum said, "this is the last time you fellows will see me up here." He barked "drop dead" to a newspaper photographer who asked that he pose behind bars.

Marquette Prison Barber, 52, Leaves Today On Parole

Lansing, Feb. 10 (AP)—Louis Martin, 52-year-old life acting as barber at the Marquette branch prison, was paroled today by the state parole board.

Martin's life sentence was commuted by former Governor Kim Sigler last December, making him eligible for parole. He has served 27 years for first degree murder, being convicted May 8, 1922 in Jackson county for participation in the holdup slaying of Louis Woloshen, Jackson merchant.

The board also paroled Marvin Mathews, sentenced July 22, 1924, to life for the slaying of a sweetheart in Wayne county. He, too, became eligible for parole when Sigler commuted his sentence last year.

Sanity Test Arranged In Fatal Holdup

Veteran and Girl Friend In Port Huron Court

Port Huron, Mich., Feb. 10 (AP)—The state moved swiftly today to bring pale, slender Robert L. Barry and the tomboyish Shirley Heath into court in a holdup slaying.

Prosecutor Reg S. Atkins, ready to ask a murder warrant, said he would seek a quick justice court arraignment to speed the case into circuit court.

Last night Barry, 21-year-old Navy veteran, and Miss Heath, also 21, were brought face to face in the St. Clair county jail.

Neither showed any emotion, police said, in their first meeting since they separated Monday night after the fatal shooting of Mrs. Lillian Boyde, 63, in a Fair Haven dairy bar.

Wife In Milwaukee

Prosecutor Atkins said investigation disclosed that both Barry and Miss Heath had records of juvenile delinquency for which they received psychiatric treatment.

He said he wanted early court action so that a board of psychiatrists could look into a "strange mental problem."

In murder cases the courts are required to order sanity examinations of the defendants.

Five years ago Barry and Miss Heath became friends while both were under the guidance of the psychiatric clinic at the University of Michigan. Barry was orphaned when he was four.

Atkins said that Barry told of having a wife, Geraldine, 20, in Milwaukee whom he hasn't seen in six months. He was said to have married her in 1947 while on furlough prior to an honorable discharge from the navy.

Bush Loses Appeal For Marquette Job

Former Warden Turned Down At Lansing

Lansing, Feb. 10 (AP)—An appeal for reinstatement as Warden of Marquette branch prison was denied Gerald F. Bush yesterday by the state civil service commission hearing board.

The board turned down Bush's plea that he be allowed to withdraw his resignation on the grounds that it was forced. He still has the recourse of appeal to the full commission.

Bush also had asked the board to waive a rule that resignations may be withdrawn within a 15-day period.

"I don't see why we should make an exception in his case," said Robert H. Dunn, board chairman.

Dunn pointed out that Bush submitted his resignation June 4, 1943 but did not ask for reinstatement until Jan. 4 of this year. Last Sept. 22, Dunn said, Bush appeared before the board in an attempt to collect some overtime he claimed was owed him but made no mention of asking for reinstatement at that time.

A former parole board member, Bush was appointed warden of the Upper Peninsula prison May 28, 1946. He resigned following a feud with former Corrections Commissioner Joseph W. Sanford, an appointee of former Governor Kim Sigler. Sanford quit as the Sigler administration left office.

While there are no details to build up a spy scare now in Washington or other capitals, the MacArthur report says right at the start:

It says Missouri - born Miss Smedley still is "at large" and so is Guenther Stein, a German. Each has written extensively on China.

Trial of Cardinal Called Infamous By President Truman

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—President Truman today denounced Hungary's treatment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty as "infamous."

He described the treason trial of the Cardinal as a kangaroo court proceeding which will go down in history as a blot against the nation which carried it on.

Mr. Truman went on to say that the matter of whether it was in violation of Hungary's treaties is being investigated and a report is to be made to him on that point.

The president discussed the trial at his news conference and gave reporters permission to quote directly his use of the word "infamous."

Story Of Espionage Network Bared In MacArthur Report

Cabinet Secrets Stolen By Bold Red Ring

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—The army warned today that remnants of a fabulous Russian spy ring that operated in Japan with perhaps the greatest daring and success in history may be at work in world capitals "at this very moment."

There is that fleeting hint at a present-day menace in the story of an espionage network so bold it slipped from the Japanese cabinet and German embassy in Tokyo secrets that helped change the course of the war.

Message Censored

And there is another hint in a suggestion that the operator who tapped out coded messages on a secret radio might now be busy in some other country.

The army snipped out parts of a 32,000-word report on the ring that Gen. Douglas MacArthur sent over from Tokyo. It gave "security reasons."

Some members of the House Un-American Activities committee are interested.

The now-it-can-be-told parts of the report unfold an amazing tale centering around:

Richard Sorge, a German Communist and master spy.

Ozaki Hozumi, his second in command and a Japanese traitor.

Agnes Smedley, American author, accused of still being a Soviet spy. She denies it.

War Alarm Sounded

Sorge was on intimate terms with German Ambassador Ott, Obaki with Japanese Premier Konoe. And from these "perfect," unsuspecting sources they extracted information of "incalculable" value.

A month ahead of time, the ring sounded an alarm that Germany would attack Russia.

It supplied the vital assurance that Japan would not pounce on Russia. So the Soviets felt safe in pulling troops from Siberia and rushing them across a continent to beat back the Nazi onslaught on Moscow.

That assurance was the prime target of the spy ring. And it got it just three days before the Japanese smashed the network in 1941, just before Pearl Harbor.

Strangely, a man who is one of the top Communists in Japan today unwittingly betrayed the ring.

Sorge and Ozaki were hanged. The report says they were spies in China before shifting to Tokyo. It says Miss Smedley brought them together in Shanghai in 1930.

Woman Demands Apology

It says she "is a spy and agent of the Soviet government."

In New York, Miss Smedley said this is a "despicable lie." She said, "I am not and never have been a Soviet spy or an agent of any country."

She said she would sue General MacArthur if she could find legal grounds for doing so.

Her attorney demanded a retraction and apology in a letter to Secretary of the Army Royall.

While there are no details to build up a spy scare now in Washington or other capitals, the MacArthur report says right at the start:

"Probably never in history has there been a ring more bold or more successful. Although most of the principals are dead, some are still at large. They can be expected to be secretly busy with their trade at this very moment in the capitals of the world."

It says Missouri - born Miss Smedley still is "at large" and so is Guenther Stein, a German. Each has written extensively on China.

Six Delta Townships To Have Election Contests

Election contests have developed in at least six of Delta county's 14 townships with the possibility that slip candidates may give some incumbents a run in others, it was revealed today in a survey of the township political field.

Principal office at stake for the candidates is that of supervisor, in which most interest is centered. The supervisor represents the township on the county board. The board is composed of one supervisor from each of the 14 townships, and of some city councilmen and city assessors from the cities, together with three appointed supervisors in the city of Escanaba.

Elections are held in the townships every two years when a supervisor, clerk, treasurer, two justices of the peace, and two board of review members are elected.

Contest In Wells

In Wells township there are two tickets, Township and Taxpayers. Candidates who have filed nominating petitions for the several offices are as follows:

Township ticket—Supervisor, Vernon C. White, incumbent; treasurer, Joseph M. Berube, incumbent; clerk, Jacob Groos, incumbent; justice of the peace, Emil L. Moser, incumbent, and Alfred Putvin; board of review members, Marvin Ford, incumbent, and Thomas Bedard.

Taxpayers ticket—Supervisor, Charles Sedenquist; treasurer, James E. Anderson; justice of the peace, Edwin LaMarche and Irvin Harbath; board of review members, Thomas Bedard and Joseph L. White, incumbents.

Escanaba and Baldwin

In Escanaba township there is opposition only for the office of supervisor. There Jovite Robert, incumbent, is opposed by Henry Hughes. Negro Couple Held For Grand Rapids Shoe Store Killing Grand Rapids, Feb. 10 (AP)—Police today arrested a 22-year-old Negro and his 16-year-old wife in the bludgeoned death Feb. 1 of shoe store owner Burr Burling.

Detective Walter Coe said that Archie Hampton and his wife, Anna Nell, had confessed fatally beating the 66-year-old merchant after he allegedly had molested Mrs. Hampton when the couple entered the store to make a purchase.

They denied robbery was the motive for attacking Burling but admitted taking his wallet and attempting to open the cash register.

Atomic Bomb Count Of United States Must Stay Secret

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—The number of atomic bombs the United States has should be kept secret, President Truman said today.

A reporter told the president at his news conference that Chairman Lillenthal of the atomic energy commission had suggested that this country should tell the world how many atomic bombs it has.

Mr. Truman denied that Lillenthal had made any such suggestion and said that he, personally, is emphatically not in favor of that.

And, he added significantly, he does not believe it is a matter for public discussion.

Lawmakers Tighten Georgia Libel Law

Atlanta, Feb. 10 (AP)—A bill tightening Georgia's libel law awaits action by Gov. Herman Talmadge.

The Senate passed the measure yesterday by a 30-17 vote.

The measure eliminates a provision of the present law which allows a newspaper or magazine to print retractions on "honest mistakes" in articles, thus avoiding punitive damages.

Under the present law, the person suing for libel could collect only actual damages if a retraction were printed and the paper showed the alleged libelous article was published in good faith.

FORMER NAZIS BECOME REDS

Mindszenty Prosecutor Was Hitler Aide

By DR. BELA FABIAN
New York, (NEA)—Of all the weird and peculiar aspects of the trial of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, the strangest of all is this: He was arrested, tried and condemned by Nazis.

Turnabout Nazis, to be sure. Men who once goose-stepped for Hitler and now give the same gruel subservience to Stalin.

The President of the People's Court, Dr. Vilmos Oltay, was a member of the vicious Arrow-Cross party, the Nazi branch in Hungary during the German occupation. He served as a judge then as he does now. He became a member of the Communist party in 1945.

Prosecutor Is Ex-Nazi
Listed as State Prosecutor in the trial is Dr. Martin Bodonyi. Under the name of Martin Schwitzer he was assessor of the military tribunal under the Nazi-controlled regime. He did not at once become a Communist when the Russians marched into Budapest but when the Russians began to put on the pressure he quickly joined the party. Since then he has participated in most of the trials in which the death penalty was demanded, against the public opinion of the entire country. He is a "reliable" man, by Communist standards. His voice does not tremble.

Most of the police officers who fabricated the case against Mindszenty are Hungarians of Schwab-German ancestry — immigrants from Muertenberg many years ago—who took part in the Nazis movement. I have seen the list of these officers, brought out from Hungary by the colonel-leutenant who arrested Mindszenty and who now has fled to Vienna.

I was not surprised when I learned that a former Nazis is sitting in judgement for the Reds over Mindszenty. It was the same when Julius Maniu, Romanian peasant leader, was convicted. For the Communists, the former Nazis are always the most reliable. They have no scruples. Without a flicker of hesitation, they obey every order. They are creatures of the regime, for if they do not obey, their pasts will be dragged out against them.

Democrats Are Suspected
The Communist attitude is simple: "It isn't important who washes the dish. The important thing is that it is washed clean."

One must understand this to comprehend how the Bolsheviks can use the man who yesterday was a criminal against them. To the Communists the principal thing is what service the man can render today and is he reliable.

Those of us who resisted the Nazis—I myself was in four German concentration camps—are the unreliable. The Democrats resisted the Nazis; they will also resist the Communist oppressors of liberty.

That is why virtually the whole courtroom in Budapest was filled with former Nazis. The only anti-Nazi connected with this trial is the accused Cardinal.

When I read of these things my mind harks back to March 19, 1944. On that day Germany invaded Hungary and I knew that my arrest was only a question of time. My wife and I, breathless with combined fear and hope, sat by the radio and listened to the

BITING DOGS

In the briefly told column of the Daily Press I noticed that Sharon Johnson was bitten by a dog on Feb. 9. I understand that five stitches were required to close the wound in her upper lip.

It seems a pity that one so young should be scarred and have to go through life disfigured, just because we have a city law that allows dogs to run at large.

In my neighborhood the children have to land together to run the gauntlet of half-wild dogs they encounter in going to and from school. I honestly think that a law should be enacted to protect our children from dogs. It should be up to us to try and do something about it. Your own child may be mutilated next. Act now! Don't put it off.

Let's get rid of these Lower Slobovian conditions. Let's make the city streets safe for our children.

A Father

Life Term Faces Grand Rapids Man In Highway Slaying

Bellaire, Mich., Feb. 10 (AP)—Theodore Mc Neil, 19, of Grand Rapids, faced a maximum sentence of life imprisonment today after conviction for second degree murder in the highway slaying of Gerald Lee.

His father Charles, 41, a Bellaire farmer, and Rex Loveless, 19, of Grand Rapids, were convicted of manslaughter.

The three defendants were taken to county jail to await sentence after a jury of 10 men and two women returned its verdict last night.

The younger Mc Neil was accused of firing shots at a truck driven by Lee during a wild nighttime chase last November. He was in a car with his father and Loveless.

The prosecution maintained that the defendants ambushed Lee's truck, mistakenly believing it contained Charles Mc Neil's estranged wife and another man.

Frozen Milk Feeds Baby On Mountain

Reno, Nev., Feb. 10 (AP)—It took a little ingenuity, but eight-year-old Lynda Campion had her fresh milk today.

Lynda lives on top 8,100-foot Peavine Mountain, where her daddy, James Campion, operates the transmitter for radio station KWRN-FM. The family is snow-bound.

Parachuting fresh milk offered a problem so the Reno Civil Air Patrol quick-froze 12 quarts, packed it and took off.

The milk came down "like a ton of bricks," reported Campion, "but we're thawing it out and it tastes fine."

voice of President Roosevelt.

"We will reward those who help our fellow men. Those who commit crimes we will punish. There will be no place for them in this world."

These are the words of President Roosevelt which echo hollowly against the walls of the courtroom where the former Nazis judge Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty.

German Financial Wizard Refuses To Appear For Trial

Ludwigsburg, Germany, Feb. 10 (AP)—A German denazification court has moved to "appease" German financial wizard Hjalmar Schacht—but a spokesman for Schacht said he still refuses to appear before the board.

The board in Wuertemberg-Baden yesterday rescinded a warrant for the arrest of Schacht, who failed to show up for trial Jan. 31.

The warrant was issued last November when local German denazification officials decided to retry Schacht. He had been convicted once but later was cleared by an appeal court, which revoked an eight-year labor sentence by the lower court in 1947.

Truman Still After Tax Increases And Wage-Price Control

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—President Truman said today he is still as strong as ever for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase and for steadily wage and price controls.

The president's call for more taxes was made at his news conference just after Secretary of the Treasury Snyder had told congress it is "essential" that the increase be granted "as soon as possible."

At the White House the questioning on taxes revolved around a reporter's query whether the president is hopeful of getting the tax increase in view of recent developments in the commodity markets and on Capitol Hill.

The president said yes, he is. Then he added he is just as strong for the tax increase now as when he first called for it.

Then, asked whether a further downward trend in the market might lead him to alter his opinion, he said it would not.

It would be just as advisable to raise taxes in that case, he said, because further economic development would not affect the expenses of the government and he is trying to avoid a deficit.

Plans Are Studied For Radar Screen Around the U. S. A.

By HOWARD DOBSON

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—Plans to throw a protective widely spaced radar screen around the United States, with outposts at sea and around the world, came today before a congressional committee.

Rep. Durham (D-NC) called a public hearing on bills to give the Air Force full responsibility for shielding the nation from a sneak air attack.

Protective radar stations would be spotted around the continental United States to guard strategic air approaches, Vinson said. They would be worked in with Air Force defense plans so as to give interceptor squadrons the greatest possible flexibility of action.

The best that can be hoped for with any radar system presently available is a warning of about half an hour if the impending attack should be by jet bombers of the 600-mile an hour class. Even with the slower, standard-type bombers like B-29s, the warning would allow only about one hour for fighter planes to take off, climb to altitude, locate the bomber force and attack. The maximum range of radar now used is about 150 miles.

Total color blindness is extremely rare.

Espionage Story

Stein, the report says, "is a man about whom too little is known." It lists him as a "top-level member" of the Tokyo ring from 1936 to 1938.

Ringleaders At Large?

Now living in New York, Stein's only comment was: "Ridiculous." He is not a naturalized American.

The only other living person described as one of the higher ups in the ring is Max Klausen, radio expert. The report leaves open the possibility that he is in Russia or in "some other country" where "his skill and experience in secret telegraphy will be useful to the Soviets."

So the army leaves unanswered the questions of what ringleaders may be working today in what world capitals.

But the un-American activities committee expects to toss questions about that at Army and Navy intelligence chiefs. They have been asked to sit in on a committee meeting tomorrow.

Committee members are interested, too, in any more information the Army might have about Miss Smedley.

Tokyo dispatches gave additional evidence today of just how well the Sorge ring operated. Two former officials helped handle the spy case said the wartime premier, Hideki Tojo, was so certain Sorge was a loyal Nazi he tried to get him turned loose.

But Tojo changed his mind when he saw some proof.

And German sources still in Japan said Sorge operated so secretly that the Soviet embassy for a time feared he might have been spying on it.

The Army account of the operations says that:

Three Japanese who used to live in America were in the ring, one at the top level.

The ring knew the trend of Japanese-American negotiations in the critical summer and fall of 1941. It had an "in" with Japan's premier Konoe.

But there is no hint it got a tip on the Pearl Harbor raid.

There is nothing in the report about any tie-in with Soviet espionage in this country. But one name in the report appears rather er obscurely in still-secret testimony taken last year at the spy hearings of the House Un-American Activities committee.

Japan released only the barest details about the ring and the trials and convictions of 17 people at the time. The U. S. Army found out about them after occupation forces moved in.

Apparently the Army report was intended to warn this country to be on the lookout for spying here.

Beware, it says, of United States employees who even show sympathy with the Communist party. It says that "party sympathy is enough to develop a high class agent and spy."

Sorge was a professional German Communist posing as a swaggering Nazi. He used a newspaper assignment as a cover, and the German embassy in Tokyo as if he owned it.

Hozumi was another newspaperman and writer. He became adviser to the cabinet and confidante of the "brain trust" of Prince-premier Konoe. He was consulted on the highest secrets, and sent them on to Moscow.

There were no Russians in the ring. That was a rule. Mostly there were Japanese and a few Germans.

Three of the Japanese lived in Los Angeles for years. The report goes on:

Miyagi Yotoko was an artist and key man. Akiyama Koji was a translator and the only member of the gang in it for money. Mrs. Kitabayashi Tomo was a dressmaker and the thread that unravelled the whole network.

How they and the rest of the espionage crew worked, and were betrayed by Communist Ito Ritsu, is a tale of intrigue, romance, possible torture and death.

It is a thriller of blinking lights, codes, hidden radios never set up in the same spot twice. It involves fake passports, microfilms passed in cigarette packs, money changing hands between shadowy figures in dark theaters.

Camera Kept Handy

Things like troop movements and secret weapons were secondary details, although the ring gathered plenty of them, too.

Sorge, the report says, was able to keep Russia "fully informed on Japanese military and industrial capabilities and intentions from 1933 to 1941. The Red Army always knew the status of current Japanese war plans, and could make their own plans and dispositions accordingly."

It was a network with "perfect sources and almost got away with the 'perfect crime.'"

By comparison, the army sizes up the wartime Soviet spy network in Canada as an "amateur show."

While serving the Moscow masters, Sorge cultivated the German ambassador in Tokyo and his staff as press attaché.

Couple Separated For 2 Generations Get Married Again

Bristow, Okla., (AP)—An elderly couple is starting life anew after a separation of two generations.

They are Berkeley Burris, 72, and Mrs. Ella Mershon, 65, married for the second time each after in Mrs. Mershon's home here.

Burris, an old-age pensioner of Plainview, Tex., and his wife were separated in 1906 when he left to look for a job. They lost touch with each other, finally giving up hope that either was alive. Mrs. Mershon remarried.

Last week, Burris discovered his wife's whereabouts through a chance meeting with her brother in Plainview, and came to Bristow only to be rebuffed. Mrs. Mershon, however, soon changed her mind and asked him to return.

Not Downhearted

THE Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, the outgrowth of the Jackson Iron company which began the shipping of iron ore from Negaunee in 1848, is optimistic about the future and expects to be mining and shipping ore from the Marquette range for many decades to come.

This was the heart-warming message brought to members of the Ishpeming Chamber of Commerce recently by Charles J. Stakel, general manager of the C. C. I. mining operation. Stakel cited a report by F. G. Pardee, appraiser of mines, which stated there is an estimated 66,640,000 tons of high grade ore reserves on the Marquette range yet, and an additional 865,000,000 tons of lean ore per 100 feet in depth.

Stakel said there is no need to worry about the future of iron mining in the Upper Peninsula if the accomplishments of the next 100 years in the utilization of low grade ore can match what has been done in the past century.

The C. C. I. is expanding its underground workings and doing new exploratory work on the Marquette range. It also has set up a large laboratory to conduct research in the utilization of low grade ores.

There is the possibility that when the time comes that low grade ores are utilized the mining and processing operations will employ more persons than at the present time. Mining communities like Ishpeming, Negaunee, Iron River and Stambaugh and ore shipping ports like Escanaba and Marquette apparently can look forward to many years of operations.

Chance For Economy

CONGRESS has indicated that it is seriously interested in effecting greater efficiency in federal government and thereby reducing the load on the over-burdened taxpayers.

By an overwhelming vote, the House of Representatives adopted the bill that provides for carrying out the Hoover plan for streamlining of the federal government. The measure is now in the Senate, where former President Hoover appeared on Monday before the executive expenditures committee to testify in favor of the bill's adoption without major revisions.

The committee, of which Hoover was chairman, worked several months on the government reorganization plan. It probably will be one of the former president's greatest contributions to his country, for anyone who can achieve major economies in government today is really accomplishing a lot.

If the streamlining plan is adopted as recommended in the Hoover committee report, it promises to reduce federal agencies from 65 to about 20 and save about three billion dollars annually. This is almost as much as the entire federal budget before the New Deal era.

It is to be hoped that the Senate will follow the example of the House and enact the government reorganization bill into law. Such an action will brighten the hopes of many Americans who have been wondering if a serious effort would ever be made to bring relief to the taxpayers.

Small Towns Seeking New Industries

SMALL rural communities of the Upper Peninsula are joining wholeheartedly in the U. P. Development Bureau's program to attract new industries.

After completing their industrial surveys, Hermansville and Rock are not standing still. They are now contacting various agencies and industrial firms and acquainting them with their advantages.

Hermansville has seen the decline of two industrial phases of its community life. For years, the sawmill and flooring mill of the Wisconsin Land & Lumber company was its chief source of employment, but that large industry was liquidated during the war. Residents then began commuting to Kingsford, Iron Mountain and Norway to work in the Ford plant and other industrial and commercial establishments.

A later development in Hermansville was the establishment of the Hiawatha Fur Farms, which furnished employment to a score of persons the year round and to approximately 100 additional during the November-December pelting season. But the continued decline of silver fox pelts prices has prompted the Herbert L. Nieman fur ranching enterprises to curtail operations at Hermansville.

Available for a new industry is the large, well-constructed fur house at Hermansville. Efforts are being made by village officials to induce a garment manufacturing company to open a factory there to furnish employment to residents of Hermansville and surrounding communities.

The village of Rock in Maple Ridge township, with a lumbering and agricultural background, is considering possibilities for the establishment of a new industry on a cooperative basis. The community has been unusually successful with cooperative projects and it may extend its interests to the industrial field. Rock had an excelsior manufacturing plant for some years, but it was closed down after it was acquired by the American Excelsior corporation, which operates a chain of excelsior factories in the country.

Both Hermansville and Rock have good railroad and highway connections. Their greatest asset, doubtless, is the availability of a supply of labor, which is accustomed to work and willing to do a good job if given the opportunity. And being small communities, Hermansville and Rock do not have the disadvantages of big cities where labor strife plagues industry at too-frequent intervals.

Death In The Dark

ABOUT 10,000 persons, mostly pedestrians, suffer horrible deaths and injuries each year in American towns and cities because municipalities fail to meet safety standards of street lighting.

C. J. Furnas, writing in the Saturday Evening Post recently, declares that too many communities take much pride in their great white ways but neglect the hidden death spots on the side streets. Darkened streets and rural approaches, ill-lighted crossings, hidden underpasses and "dead ends" contribute to the rising toll of so-called hit-and-run deaths between death and dawn.

In addition to traffic accidents, darkened back streets have encouraged such crimes as robbery and brutal attacks upon women. Cognizant of the situation, many cities are taking steps to better illuminate their streets now that materials are in better supply.

Better street lighting is paying off in reduced traffic accidents and crime. It's a good investment for every community.

TRIAL OF CARDINAL MINDSZENTY (Milwaukee Journal)

Cardinal Mindszenty, whatever his fate may be, and whatever activities he may have carried on, is the victim of two forces, both evil. He is a casualty of one of the most ruthless movements in history.

The first force was the seizure of a nation against the will of its people—the coming in of a foreign dictatorship to take over. The second and present force is the desire of that regime, as a part of the plans of Moscow to strike back at the western powers and the United States.

There was nothing "legal" in the Soviet sponsored coup that seized power in Hungary. There is nothing "legal" in the terror by which the Soviet puppets maintain power. There was treachery, in every sense of the word, in the procedure by which the Soviet puppets took power.

Once again, no matter what the accused cardinal may have dreamed, thought, advised or done, it is an insulting mockery of justice, as conceived by civilized man, to have the present Soviet supported regime in Hungary going through the motions of "trying" Cardinal Mindszenty—or of "trying" anyone else.

And for a regime that seized power illegally and by arch treachery to accuse anyone else of being a traitor is nothing more than a manifestation of the duplicity and the depravity long characteristic of Communist thought.

"A people's court"—what a mockery! It is not the people of Hungary who are trying Cardinal Mindszenty but the dictators in Moscow.

BRITAIN'S BOUNCING BABIES (Christian Science Monitor)

The British Labor party has a red face which matches the rosy cheeks of the eight-months-old Duke of Kent. The Duke, we are informed, was eight months old in 1936, nine years before the Labor government came to power. But a picture of a chubby infant in a Labor party pamphlet, intended to show that British babies are more bouncing under Socialist ministrations, has turned out to be an old photograph of the infant Duke.

It was all a horrible and unwitting mistake, the Laborites explain breathlessly, but the Conservatives will have none of such excuses. Clearly, they say, this is an attempt to involve the royal family in a political campaign.

To us it seems like an attempt to involve all Britain's bouncing babies, past and present, in politics. But the Tories can easily retaliate. All they need to do is to circulate a picture of Winston Churchill, then whom no Laborite baby could possibly be chubbier, to prove the continued bounce and bloom of British conservatism under four years of Socialist assault.

A PLACE FOR DIGNITY (Detroit News)

What Rep. George Dondero said to the House in pleading for more dignity in its proceedings simply echoes the thoughts of almost every citizen who visits Washington to watch the Congress in action.

Dondero criticized his colleagues for smoking on the floor and for reading newspapers while the House is in session. Even more shocking to the galleryite is the incessant buzz of private conversation among members on the floor while important issues are being debated.

Usually, an average American visits the Congress for the first time with a great feeling of pride in his government. But if after his initial shock he returns for a second visit, it is for about the same reason that he would attend a two-ring circus.

Communists Lose In Labor Field

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington. — Almost without notice from the press one of the last links between the Soviet Union and the West was severed not long ago. On the day that the British Trades Union Congress, the CIO and the Dutch unions pulled out of the World Federation of Trade Unions, an era came to an end.

Documents that have just reached here show that the step was inevitable. Russia was determined to use the WFTU as an instrument for thwarting the reconstruction of Western Europe and attacking the Marshall Plan.

From the beginning James B. Carey, for the CIO, and the British TUC delegates had taken the stand that the Marshall Plan was in line with the declared policy of the world federation to support the reconstruction of war-devastated countries. But time after time, in spite of their repeated protests, they had seen the WFTU used to propagandize against "monopoly capitalism" and the Marshall Plan.

Therefore, at the recent Paris meeting, the British, the American and the Dutch delegations withdrew. In a stirring speech Carey denounced the Russians for perverting what had been intended to be a world organization of labor unions into a device to further Soviet aims.

RUSSIANS ON DEFENSIVE

The reply came from V. V. Kuznetsov, president of the All-Union Central Council of Trade Unions in Moscow. The shrill indignation directed at Carey and the British delegates, Arthur Deakin and Vincent Tewson, showed plainly that Kuznetsov was on the defensive.

"Carey says that the Soviet trade unions are subordinated to the Soviet state and the Cominform," Kuznetsov shouted. "This is a sheer lie."

"The Soviet trade unions are an important and influential organization in Soviet society, but the government has never been in command of the trade unions. In our country government authority belongs to the working people. The Soviet government is glad to help the trade unions and duly considers their opinions. . . ."

"Carey does not like it because there are no strikes in the U. S. S. R. and not because they are prohibited by law, for on the contrary our law permits strikes. But there are no strikes. Why? Because we have no exploitation—and Carey should finally understand this. . . ."

The trade unions in Russia are, of course, completely subordinate to the all-dominant state. This has been obvious for a long time to all but the blindest of fellow travelers.

COMMUNISTS DOMINATED WFTU
The CIO has been criticized for staying in the WFTU when it became apparent that Communists dominated its operation. But Carey, long a foe of Communist aggression and Communist tactics at home and abroad, went ahead with the backing of CIO President Philip Murray in the hope that through a world labor organization a common meeting grounds with the Russians could be found.

Last March Carey flew to Moscow to make a direct appeal to Kuznetsov to end Communist sniping in the WFTU. In a dramatic meeting Carey warned that if the WFTU failed and the Soviet unions and the CIO could not get along together, then it would be generally agreed in the United States that nobody there could get along together, then it would be generally agreed in the United States that nobody there could get along with the Russians.

He pointed out to Kuznetsov how the CIO had helped to shape the Marshall Plan, participating in its work at every stage. Kuznetsov's reply was to repeat all the old charges of American imperialism.

The partnership between Carey, who looks much younger than his 37 years, and Murray has brought significant results. Murray, who still has a burr in his speech from his native Scotland, is now having a brief rest cure in Mercy hospital in his home town, Pittsburgh.

While Murray has been working with Carey on the international front, being in frequent telephonic conversation with TUC executives in London, he has at the same time been warring against Communist influence in the CIO. The past year has seen Communist intriguers removed from virtually all posts of influence in the CIO and its affiliates.

It can be argued that they never should have been allowed to rise to positions of influence. But that is history and so now is the quiet revolution that has thrown them out.

Result—she's married to a man,
And not, please, to a house.

"Househusband" he is never called
Throughout his married life;
So why should she, his lady fair,
Be basely dubbed "housewife"?

A year or so ago "housewife" was discussed here, and women readers were invited to send in their suggestions for a suitable substitute term.

A lot of mail came in. A majority of the letters suggested "homemaker." A few women suggested "home manager," or "homewife." And almost all condemned "housewife." Said one, "The word housewife leaves a bad taste in my mouth, for it seems to imply that one is a menial, wedded to a mop, washtub, and a kitchen stove."

Surprisingly, no one favored "housekeeper," doubtless because of the fact that that title is customarily given to a woman hired to run a household and manage its domestic affairs. Still, wives everywhere pride themselves on being good housekeepers.

Here is what appears to be a good way out of the quandary: When you are asked, "What is your occupation?" Simply say, "I keep house for my husband (and children; or; and family)."

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

GOOD CITIZEN—We recently read an article in which the non-voters were castigated for their failure to exercise their franchise. Those non-voters were, he said, "taking a free ride." They are complacent, apathetic, lazy, selfish — well, they represented most of the faults of bad citizens of any country.

The citizen who votes must, therefore, be a paragon of all virtues.

The truth is somewhere between the two extremes. Certainly the citizen who fails to vote is deserving of criticism. By his own failure he places himself in that category of disenfranchised that includes the criminal, the insane, and the frightened Negroes in many Southern communities.

BY VOTING—Of the total 95,000,000 persons old enough to vote, less than half actually voted last November.

Those who did vote should feel a sense of satisfaction for having done their duty—but they do not need to feel superior. The act of voting alone does not make a good citizen, no matter how you define citizenship. Witness the "white supremacy" voters who gather first for a lynching and next at the polls.

Or consider the large number of voters who, for selfish reasons, vote for the candidate who promises most, regardless of the nation's welfare. Their citizenship is centered in their pocket-books. Are they good citizens?

OF THE BEST—Most laudable is the good citizen who votes. He is informed, unbiased, conscientious. He votes for the candidate he believes will best serve the people; who represents the principles of honesty and integrity; and can differentiate between pressure groups and the cause of the common man.

This good citizen and voter, incidentally, does not restrict his ballot casting to the presidential election every four years. He is active for all good things in his community. He feels that good citizenship requires an interest in politics and he is neither afraid to be identified with a political party nor with good government movements.

The actual casting of a ballot he takes as a matter of course, knowing that his vote may be cancelled by the vote of the ill-informed, the prejudiced, the self-seeking citizen. He knows that voting is, in itself, no major accomplishment—although some citizens consider that if they vote they have fulfilled all of the obligations of citizenship.

GRASS ROOTS—There is a certain class of voters who believes politics begins and ends in Washington, D. C.

Every four years they vote in the presidential election but ignore political affairs in their community and in their state.

For a strong and healthy political fabric there must be an active interest in government at the "grass roots" level. What goes on in your town, your country, and your state has an all-important bearing upon national affairs. The satisfying part of political effort at the local level is that you can see results. What you work for today may be accomplished tomorrow to make your a better community in which to live.

"DIRTY" POLITICS — Too many people assume a pure-as-driven-snow attitude toward politics. Politics is dirty, they say. Too dirty to get mixed in with.

If things are like that in your town, a good clean-up is in order.

The people who say "politics is dirty" usually mean they are afraid to mix in politics for fear of losing prestige. Politics in America, or elsewhere for that matter, has never been noted for its kid gloves treatment of those who participate in it. There is always the opposition to point out weakness, crookedness and error.

AND GOVERNMENT—Politics and government are almost synonymous in the United States. You cannot have government without politics. There is, therefore, no stigma in actively participating in political affairs.

Should you not wish to be identified with a political party, there are many ways in which you can serve in citizens political organizations. But don't think you are not in politics, for you are. Call it an "interest in good government" if it protects your sensibilities.

Whatever you do, however, do well. Don't join a political group and then drop out when the going gets rough. You are out to sway public opinion in the interests of better government. It may call for a fight—to convince those "faithful voters" that they have voted faithfully but not well. Make politics the means to accomplish good and you have nothing to fear from it.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Three distinguished statesmen were on hand to greet the French Gratitude Train when it arrived in Washington — Vice President Barkley and his former colleagues, Senators Connally of Texas, Democrat, and Vandenberg of Michigan, Republican.

These three have served in the Senate together for more than a quarter of a century. Sometimes they have been on opposite sides of bitter political battles, but they have never let party politics interfere with personal friendship. They know each other as well as they know the Senate—which is better than almost anyone else in Washington. How much Senator Vandenberg knows about the early boyhood of Senator Connally of Texas is his secret.

But at the very conclusion of the ceremonies welcoming the Gratitude Train, as the venerable Tom Connally took a pair of shears and snipped the red, white and blue ribbon sealing the District of Columbia boxcar, his old friend, the senator from Michigan, whispered to the vice president of the United States:

"I'll bet that's not the first time Tom has broken into a boxcar."

ACHESON WARY OF BEVIN

It isn't being advertised outside the state department, but British Foreign Minister Bevin didn't put his best foot forward with the new U. S. secretary of state just a few days after Dean Acheson took office.

Bevin sent what amounted to a frantic SOS to Acheson for help to get him enough votes to squeak by an attempted censure of British foreign policy in the House of Commons. But after Acheson helped to get him the votes, Bevin, in effect, bit the hand that fed him.

Here is the inside story of what happened:

Just before the debate on Palestine, Bevin was worried sick that the Labor party might be defeated and have to resign. Part of the criticism was because Britain's policy in Palestine was upsetting American relations. Therefore, Bevin hit on the idea of telling parliament that Britain and the United States had settled their differences and now agreed completely on Palestine.

Bevin actually wrote out his remarks in advance and cabled them to the state department January 25 to make sure Secretary Acheson had no objection. Bevin also appealed to Acheson to issue an American statement backing up Bevin on Palestine. The state department OK'd Bevin's remarks and gave them the go-ahead—and that statement was the trump card which helped him win a vote of confidence by a margin of only ninety. Otherwise the labor government might have been defeated.

However, Bevin extemporaneously inserted some other remarks in his speech, criticizing American policy. This made Acheson so irate he flatly refused to issue the subsequent statement on Palestine supporting Bevin. As a matter of fact, Acheson also considered protesting to Bevin about his American criticism, but finally decided to forget the whole thing. He decided, however, that he would think twice before helping Bevin out of a jam again.

PROBE DODGERS' AIRFIELD

It isn't often the government gets mixed up in big-league baseball, but for some time the Civil Aeronautics Authority has been probing the Brooklyn Dodgers' spring training camp at Vero Beach, Florida.

Actually, the Dodgers are not involved. It's the city of Vero Beach, which the government is interested in, because of a complicated transaction by which Vero Beach is suspected of leasing a government airfield to the Dodgers at a handsome profit. The airfield is being used by the Dodgers for their fair-weather training, for an official charge of $5 per year plus the proceeds from an exhibition game. The airfield is owned by the government and leased to the city of Vero Beach for nothing, with the stipulation that any income is to be used for the airfield's upkeep and improvement.

CAA officials now suspect that a lot more than $5 a year is being paid by the Dodgers for the airfield. What makes them suspicious is a statement by Mayor Merrill P. Barber that the city had "entered into a five-year renewable lease with the Brooklyn baseball club at an estimated income of $12,000 (annually)."

Later, city officials began to search for extra pillows upon which the Dodgers' heads were to rest at night. The government supposedly was turning over a certain number of pillows with the airfield. And Airport Manager Bud Holman, appealing for more pillows, complained: "This is really putting us in a bad position, as we have a 10-year contract with the Brooklyn ball club which should bring us in from $20,000 a year upward."

This says the CAA, is a lot more than $5 a year. That's why the government wants to find out what's happening to the extra money.

GRUDGE FIGHT RENEWED

One of the bitterest battles of the 80th Congress was over Director of Reclamation Mike Strauss and his California regional aide, Richard Boke. The battle finally ended by Congress taking the almost unprecedented action of barring them from the payroll.

Backstage, this battle is raging again inside the rules and appropriation committees of the 81st Congress, where a coalition of Southern Democrats and Republicans is ganging up to block Truman on reclamation. Real issue behind this battle is the 160-acre limitation on reclamation holdings in the Far West.

California's Senator Sheridan Downey, though a Democrat, led the grudge fight against Strauss and Boke. Brazenly he claimed they had administered the 160-acre limit too efficiently. Now he is pulling wires behind the scenes to block them from getting back their jobs, and to some extent, the fight has boiled down to one between Truman and Downey.

VIDEO REVIVES 'RASSLIN' GAME

Fifteen Million Pay To See Grunters

By ROBERT C. RUARK
New York—When that new and awkward monster, television, is called to account for its sins, it will have to answer one hard question: Did you or did you not revive professional rassling? And television will have to hang its head and say yes, I'm afraid so.

A great native art comes once again into its own, to reap its just reward, and that double-barreled cliché slid in real easy. Already, I have drifted back to the tender green years of sports-writing, when metropolitan newspapers actually assigned reporters to cover the muscular excesses of flabby giants who grew scabrous beards and whetted their teeth nightly for peon's pay. Some of my best friends were rasslers. They were the only people I knew as poor and overworked as I.

The rassles today are neither science, sport nor skill. They are a pure artform, and a very sensitive artform, at that. They are a smuggy compromise between ballet and bullfighting, with the happy exception that in a rassle contest nobody ever gets hurt on purpose, which is more than you can say of ballet.

Free Enterprise Now
My old friend, Mr. Toots Mondt, a lump-eared impresario of the arts, even tells me that the monopolistic control over the burpers has been bust, so that today rassling is regarded as free enterprise, unhampered by the closed shop.

The rassles hit their golden age a score of years ago, when Jeemy Londos flexed his shimmering biceps for great sums. The business then wilted under a vast overload of freaks—angels of all nationalities, spurious Hindus, Lower Slobbovian monsters, lady rasslers, and rasslers who struggled in mud, herring-sauce, ice-cream, raspberries, snow and smelt. An occasional motheaten bear long ripe for the rug; once again became popular as an antidote to the thyroidal proteges of Monsieur Jacques Pfeifer. Mr. Pfeifer I knew well. He was a stringy little man who called himself the Halitosis kid, and was boastful of his effluvia of garlic. He now operates out of Los Angeles, which serves both man and city right.

Television Gave Boost
As I say, the rassles died. Mr. Mondt, who presently serves as the booking agent for Primo Carrera and a herd of less talented behemoths, told me he once ran a survey on rassling, and less than one half of one per cent of the population had observed a deathless duel of the granters, then came television to rectify the

Escanabans Learn Their Brother Is Safe; Missed Fatal Navy Plane Flight

"No news is good news!" Mrs. H. L. Holderman, 910 Seventh avenue South, and her brother, Ted Baldwin, 912 Fifth avenue South, have decided definitely!

For five days, they went without news of their brother, Francis Baldwin, whom they believed to be one of five civilian scientists aboard a missing U. S. Navy Beechcraft plane in California.

The plane took off from China Lake, Inyokern, Calif., Feb. 3 en route to the Naval air station in Alameda, Calif. It was to be a routine flight and Esther add Ted had every reason to believe brother Francis was aboard because he has been serving as a civilian coordinator with the guided missile project at the Naval Ordnance laboratory at China lake and such checkup flights were part of his work.

The plane is still missing, and the Escanabans were secretly worried, until, to their great relief, they received word that oversight.

The merest child today is familiar with the facial distortions of the gladiators. Young mothers observe the perspiration of gorgeous George and Signor Carrera as they knit. Result: Fifteen million paid admissions last year, and the resuscitation of wrestling in Madison Square Garden as a major attraction.

Mr. Carrera is so in demand as a striver that he practically commutes to Latin America, where they love him as a son. An average week in the U. S. of A. will fetch him home five grand, before taxes, manager's fees and expenses. This is a brassie shot better than the actual poverty Primo experienced under the fleet of hoodlums who steered him as a fist-fighter. They cut him up so thoroughly that at final accounting Primo often owed his consultants money.

Mr. Georgeous George, who got hot out on the West coast, now is hot all over. He is hotter fiscally than old Jeem Londos.

What I wish is that Joe Turner, of Washington, D. C., was still around to enjoy the new boom in grunt. Joe was a rassler's rassler, over-gaudy hippodrome hurt him to the heart, and when, to reinvigorate the box office, he occasionally had to break out the mothbit bear, his soul shrank. Joe died before television brought the game into the home, and he wasn't rich. It was almost like dying on the lip of a goldmine, while waiting for belated delivery of a 3-dollar pick.

their civilian scientist brother missed that particular flight because his wife was ill, and he chose to stay home and take care of her.

"It proves what a tremendous thing fate is," Ted mused yesterday. "Of course we were worried but we did not confide this to each other. I felt that Francis' wife surely would have notified us immediately if anything had gone wrong."

"No news is good news, and in this case it certainly was true!"

Marquette Convict Admits 1945 Holdup Slaying In Detroit

Detroit, Mich., (AP)—A detective posing as an ex-convict obtained evidence which police said solved a 1945 Detroit holdup slaying. Officers said that Eugene E. Wells, 31, who has been in Marquette prison since January, 1946, admitted Saturday the killing of Harry Stinson, 34. Both Wells and Stinson were Detroiters.

An ex-convict whose name is withheld went to police with the information that Wells told him to pick up a gun at the home of relatives.

Dr. Hiram Phipps, posing as the ex-convict, went to the home instead. Relatives refused to give up the gun immediately and wrote Wells asking permission. The letter was intercepted.

Police faked a reply, saying it was all right to turn over the weapon.

Officers said ballistics tests showed that the gun was the one used to kill Stinson, who was a customer at a tavern robbed in August, 1945. Stinson was shot as he lunged at the holdup man.

Wells will be brought back to Detroit this week, police said.

Karl L. Kesslers Return From Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Karl L. Kessler, 917 Sixth avenue south, have returned from Michigan City, Ind., where they attended the funeral services for Mr. Kessler's father, Clarence Kessler, who died suddenly at Rock Island, Ill.

The senior Mr. Kessler was superintendent of the Swords Morton Veneer Company of Rock Island.

He was one of the four pioneers in the veneer industry. He entered the industry 62 years ago and was active in it up to the time of his death at the age of 78.

HOUSING WILL BE DISCUSSED

Meeting To Be Held In Escanaba March 8

Washington, D. C., (WNS)—Escanaba will be the scene of one of a series of conferences of representatives of labor, industry, business and finance, where the theme will be ways and means of achieving the volume production of low cost homes.

The Escanaba conference is slated for March 8.

Many observers of the nationwide Economy Housing program, of which the Escanaba conference is a part, see in it as the final test for private enterprise in the field of lower cost housing. The program was instituted by the National Association of Home Builders, and is being supported by federal agencies.

Aim of the program is not slum clearance nor extremely low cost housing, but instead it is designed to provide homes for the average wage-earner, whose income is in the $45-$60 per week class. Production of lower-cost sale and rental units to meet more of the pressing need for housing by average families throughout the nation stands as a challenge and opportunity for the homebuilding industry. Administrator Raymond M. Foley of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, declared on Monday as the economy housing program got underway.

"To provide this lower-cost housing in the volume needed requires the earnest cooperation of all segments of the industry," Mr. Foley said, "for it cannot be done by only a part or parts of the industry. It involves an industry-wide search for economies and efficiencies that will cut the cost of good housing."

Plans call for meetings, such as the one to be conducted in Escanaba, of representatives of construction labor, builders, architects, general contractors, home finance and investment institutions, building materials producers and dealers, real estate brokers, chamber of commerce, local municipal officials (building code revision and simplification is one of the goals) and top government officials in the housing field.

Need for this type of housing construction was stressed in Washington recently at a conference of the National Municipal Association where mayor after mayor called not for slum clearance but for construction of homes for the average family, unable to buy homes of from ten to twenty thousand dollars. Many of these prospective home buyers,

Russia Far Behind U. S. Steel Output

Geneva, Switzerland, (AP)—Russia produced more iron and steel in 1948 than any other European country—but only one-fifth as much as the United States.

Statistics published by the economic commission for Europe, a United Nations body, listed Britain second in Europe, France third and Germany fourth.

France was the only European country which did not go over the production target for the year. The continent as a whole recorded a 30 per cent gain over 1947 and reached 90 per cent of the prewar average.

Total European output in 1948 was 63,573,000 metric tons. A metric ton is 2,204.6 pounds.

The figures are based on information supplied by the producing countries and, in the case of Russia and Yugoslavia, on official estimates by the commission itself.

Russian steel production totaled 16,500,000 tons, an increase of 3,500,000 over 1947. Soviet pig iron production was 14,000,000 tons, a boost of 2,500,000 tons.

The commission said Soviet production of steel rose more than any other nation's. It exceeded the United States' boost of 3,271,000 metric tons in 1948.

American output was more than 80,000,000 metric tons—five times the Russian production and larger than the production of all Europe.

Despite advances, Russia, Germany and Italy remained the only major European steel producers.

in the $6,000 to $10,000 range, said the delegates are veterans.

ing countries lagging behind prewar averages.

Britain produced 15,114,000 metric tons of steel and 9,425,000 tons of pig iron in 1948. French steel production was 7,255,000 metric tons.

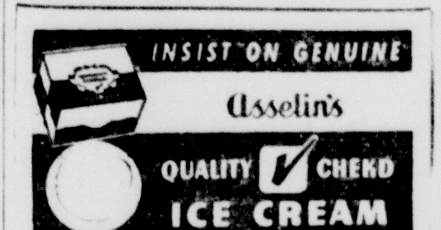

Germany's total steel output climbed to 5,738,000 metric tons, an increase of more than 2,500,000 tons over 1947, but still little more than one-third of the prewar average.

Of the total, 5,463,000 tons were produced in the American and British occupation zones, where output rose 81 per cent and exceeded the target by 34 per cent.

URANIUM ORE TO BE MINED

Camray To Sink Shaft At Theano Point

Sault, Ont.—Robert Campbell, of Toronto, vice president of Camray Mines, Ltd. which holds mining rights on 1,200 acres of land in the vicinity of the pitchblende strike at Theano Point, said Saturday that there are three requirements for successful prospecting in Algoma.

These he listed as:

"A good working knowledge of the Geiger counter; a pair of good strong feet; and a sound faith in Santa Claus."

He presented a very optimistic picture of prospecting chances in Algoma this year and said he expressed the view that many more claims will be staked in the district this summer.

Camray will proceed at once with plans for the development of mining operations on their property, he said.

He said that arrangements have already been made with Hennessy and Hennessy, road contractors, for the construction of a mile and a half winter road into the Theano Point mining area and that the road would be graded, leveled and improved once the snow melted in the spring.

Permanent camps will be built on the site and a diamond drill moved in for early sampling work. The drill program is not a large one he explained, pointing to the difficulty of obtaining results by this method. The diamond drill core will be supplemented by a drill-hole Geiger count and the area will be logged to find the most suitable results.

Mr. Campbell said that the company was prepared to sink a shaft in "the most likely spot" and hoped that actual production would be started before the end of the year.

He said that because of the urgency of producing the valuable pitchblende to further Canada's supply of atomic power uranium the preliminary work will be rushed as quickly as possible. It was indicated that shipments of the concentrate would be by truck to the Sault and by railway from the Sault.

The Atomic Energy Control Board have guaranteed purchase of the concentrates for the next seven years, said Mr. Campbell, at a price of $2.72 a pound f. o. b. railroad.

Speaking in a personal nature, the geologist said that he was not particularly interested in the actual development, of the Camray property, but hoped to go on with further geological work in

Because of continued construction work for the purpose of serving food, the Blue Room will be open only evenings after 8 o'clock.

C&H TO BEGIN ZINC MINING

Shipping Its Equipment To Shullsburg, Wis.

Calumet, Mich.—Considerable excess machinery of the Calumet division of Calumet & Hecla is being reconditioned and sent to Shullsburg, Wis., for use in building the mining and milling plants of the company's zinc property. Included in the heavy equipment assigned to the Wisconsin mine are a conical ball mill, an Akins screw-type classifier, a Nordberg electric hoist, three two and a half ton skips, two Nordberg crushing rolls, three rock crushers, one of which weighed 28,000 pounds, two head sheaves, a 54,000-gallon water tank, a Dorr thickener, and two skip dumps for the head frame. Numerous smaller items are included, such as air receivers, mine cars, poor rock cars, poor rock hoist, a mine locomotive, etc.

Much of the work of reconditioning has been done in the machine and smith shops of the company. The foundry also has supplied considerable casting work, an example of which are the Ni-Hard jaw faces for the crusher. The project also has greatly increased the work of the company's drafting department.

Working Women Kick Up U. S. Family Income

Washington (AP)—Working women have had a lot to do with boosting the income of U. S. families.

Census bureau data showed that female breadwinners furnished the entire support of more than 2,000,000 of the nation's 37,000,000 families in 1947.

They contributed 25 per cent or more of the total income for one out of four families, it added.

The bureau found the average family income in 1947 was $3,000, a gain of 20 per cent over a three-year period, and the highest on record up to that time.

Four million families were at the bottom with income under $1,000, and one million at the top with $10,000 or more.

In between them, incomes were distributed thus: six million had $1,000 to $2,000; eight million each had $2,000-$3,000 or $3,000-$4,000; four million had $4,000-$5,000; and three million each had $5,000-$6,000 or $6,000-$10,000.

For white families, the middle-size income was $3,200. That was about twice the income of negro families—but in 1939 white family incomes had been nearly three times that of others.

Two of every three persons over 14 years of age, or 68,000,000 in all, had some income, and the average per individual was $1,800. The average for men was $2,200, for women $1,000.

LOWER PRICES DUE THIS YEAR

Experts See No Setback Despite Leveling Off

By S. BURTON HEATH

New York, (NEA)—Prices are falling all along the line. Workers are being laid off or being put on part time. New jobs are harder to get. Unemployment Compensation and relief claims are rising. Store shelves are filled with long-scarce goods. Merchants are cutting stocks and manufacturers are cutting production.

Yet it is hard to find a reputable expert who does not predict that 1949 will be a good year. Some feel that the first half may be better than 1948.

In the consumer field only the less expensive cars, refrigerators, some types of furniture, and floor coverings still remain short, Edwin B. George, economist for Dun & Bradstreet, points out. Millwork for building should be added.

Textiles lag, so do men's clothing and radios and small electrical appliances and luxury goods and entertainment. Farm income is down, business failures are up. The boom is leveling off.

But George expects first half sales to run five per cent above 1948, and unit sales—if not dollar sales—to be up in the second half. He sees continued reaction, consumer and wholesale prices falling, but no economic setback during 1949.

These views might seem illogical or paradoxical, if they weren't shared by so many topnotch economists, industrialists and the like.

Solomon Fabricant, professor of economics at New York University, considers the likelihood of any serious slump in 1949 "pretty slight" because, of one started, he thinks the government would step in.

Donald H. Davenport, director of the division of Economic Development for the State of New York, thinks 1949 should be a good year for business. He thinks unemployment will be spotty and quickly absorbed but that its existence will restrain further rises in wages and prices.

Barring "some extreme incident"—such as panic arising from over-stress of mark-down sales and employment cutbacks—or "uncautious policies" in Washington, he believes "we can sustain the needed adjustments without fear of a depression."

O. Glenn Saxon, professor of economics at Yale, thinks that "1948 will turn out to be the peak year of wholesale commodity prices and cost of living. We are going to see a decline from now on. There is likely to be some small over-all decrease in industrial production."

He expects the national income to fall not more than five per cent—which is only half what he expects the wholesale commodity index to drop before Christmas. He is confident that price declines will stimulate new buying in many lines.

Bradford B. Smith, economist for U. S. Steel, expects 1949 to be a good year because he does not believe Washington will abandon the "artificial easy money policy" that he thinks causes the inflationary boom.

Most pessimistic of the experts canvassed was Miss Helen Slade of the New York Chapter, American Statistical Ass'n. With savings down, order backlogs vanishing, consumer price resistance spreading to non-luxury lines, taxes going up, "1949 does not promise to be a year of jubilation," she remarks.

There will be a setback that may last from six months to a year, she believes. But even she adds that we do not face the probability of a long depression.

The answer to this strange bed-fellowship of pessimism and optimism probably lies in two factors, mentioned by most experts. One is the selective character of soft spots. The other is the country's basic soundness, stressed by one after another in different ways.

For the first time, an economic readjustment runs up against unemployment insurance. Families do not become penniless, and have to go on credit or relief while Father gets a new job—they have small but steady income to tide them over. So each job-loser does not contribute to the loss of other jobs.

There is a huge backlog of public works that are really needed, but have been held up by scarcities of workers and materials. The U. S. News compiled a figure of $100 billion of state, county and city improvements of this nature, exclusive of federal.

Uncle Sam has been waiting to buy stockpile supplies for defense, to give civilians a chance. Now he has decided to go ahead anyway. Already small orders are trickling around, taking up a bit of slack here and there.

The National City Bank's January letter, pointing out that readjustment has to come some time, and there is evidence now that inflationary forces are weakened, goes on to note that order backlogs still are heavy, government stockpiling orders are waiting, the government will take less and spend more this year, and popular-priced automobiles—always a big stimulus to business—will be able to sell more this year than they can make.

And while everybody talks about recession, the Federal Reserve Board reports that department store sales for the first three weeks in January were five per cent above the corresponding period in 1948. Every reserve bank district showed an increase, ranging from two per cent for Boston and San Francisco up to eight per cent for Cleveland and

The program included a talk by Mrs. Roy Swanson who paid tribute to the founders of the Parent-Teacher association and also to the work of the local units, and a demonstration of work in the special rooms in the school presented by Supt. John A. Lemmer and Miss Eve Flemstrom and a group of seven pupils of the oral-deaf and sight-saving rooms. A film also was shown with comments by Mr. Lemmer.

Sentiment Costs
3 Million To Fix
Old White House

New York (AP)—Is the spirit of Dolly Madison worth 3 million to the country?

That's about what sentiment will cost the taxpayers in the matter of fixing up the White House.

A businessman choosing between repairing a dilapidated old plant at the cost of $5 million, and building a new one from scratch at $2 million wouldn't let sentiment delay him long in deciding to save the $3 million.

The businessman might say the White House is more than a home. It is the mass-production chief factory for the executive branch, where social, diplomatic, patronage and a host of other executive products roll off the line.

It has depreciated badly. It could be written off the books for tax purposes. The new building—at present day construction costs—could be figured into a special depreciation reserve, to make the executive profit and loss statement look better.

But as a citizen, many a businessman will go right along with other Americans who think it's worth the money just to keep the semblance at least of the mansion Dolly knew.

At first the cost of repairing the president's official home was estimated at $1 million. Then the architects dug into the place and shook their heads. Now they estimate the cost will run to five times as much. Shoring up the tottering old building and replacing it piece by piece will be twice as expensive as tearing it down and rebuilding a modern, safe successor. About the only thing they found that's really sound is the Truman porch.

Architects say the interior walls, window frames, beams, joists, rafters must be replaced with steel instead of wood, where it doesn't show too much.

The fire-hazardous type of electric wiring should be yanked out and fireproof conduits put in. The plumbing accumulated over the years should be scrapped and modern facilities installed.

That's so the president's family could live in convenience comparable at least to the tenants of a federal housing project.

The jobs could all be done much more easily, more quickly, and cheaply by tearing down the present structure and building something new, as shiny and prosperous and advanced as the country.

But some citizens prefer to have a $5 million stake in the country's past.

Prize Bull Bought For $38,000 Only Good for Hamburger

Des Moines (AP)—Prince Rupert, the $38,000 Hereford bull which never produced a penny's worth of offspring, is headed for the slaughterer's chamber. Decision to dispatch Rupert was taken by Gov. Turner of Oklahoma after the blue-blooded animal remained sterile despite five years of corrective treatments including a pituitary operation.

When Turner purchased T. Royal Rupert 99th as a two-year-old in 1943, his sale price was the highest on record for a bull, although higher prices have been paid since.

Wayne Fox of Des Moines, who has supervised Rupert's care the past three years, said the bull failed completely to respond to the various efforts to give him the power of parenthood.

A post-mortem was to be conducted in hopes that the prize animal might yield, in death, some contribution to veterinary science.

Only one thing was certain—he would at least be worth his weight in hamburger.

Minister Accused Of Peccadillos In Los Angeles Suit

Los Angeles, (AP)—Does a civil court have jurisdiction in a suit accusing a minister of "peccadillos" with women parishioners?

The First Baptist church of Glendale thinks not. And it asked a superior court to dismiss a suit charging its pastor, Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher Jr., with immorality.

The suit, filed by two former church members, accused the 46-year-old cleric, father of four, of misconduct and "peccadillos" with some 40 women church members. It asked the court to try Dr. Brougher or order the congregation to vote on his removal. (A peccadillo is a light or trifling sin.)

In a demurrer action the church contends the suit lacks sufficient evidence and the court has no jurisdiction in such ecclesiastical controversies.

Dinner Held Monday

A. Theodore Sohlberg was honored Monday evening by the Swedish club at a ladies night social meeting held in the Ludington Hotel at which wives and friends of members were entertained.

The testimonial dinner was in recognition of his faithful service during the 15 years of the club's existence. One of its founders, Mr. Sohlberg served as its first president, later held the office of secretary-treasurer and at present is one of its directors.

Most recent and believed by some to be his greatest contribution to the club, was representing it on and acting as chairman of the Delta County Swedish Centennial committee which culminated in the visit of Prince Bertil of Sweden to this community last June.

The following program marked the evening:

Woman Cop Pinches Toothpick Charlie As Nickel Stealer

Los Angeles, California (AP)—"Toothpick Charlie," once one of the country's best second story men, is in crook's purgatory.

For the first time in his 50-years of brushing with the law, he was pinched by a woman cop and for stealing nickels.

Charlie's picture once was a permanent exhibit in the nation's postoffices. Legally known as James J. Fitzpatrick, he is now 85.

He once was the envy of the underworld for his slick second story work, but the years have slowed him. Lately, police say, he has come down to emptying telephone coin boxes.

His nickname comes from the toothpick always in his mouth, except when he places it in the coin box mechanism. If it is still there on his next trip, he knows that the phone company investigators aren't checking on him.

G-S PROGRAM
IS DISCUSSEDActivities For Year Now
Being Considered

Establishment of a budget for the year and the formulating of a correlated plan for the various committees including program, camping, training, organization, administration and publicity were considered at a meeting of the board of directors of the Gladstone Girl Scout council held Tuesday evening.

Presiding was Mrs. Seymour Lewis, newly installed president of the local council. The treasurer's report was given by LeRoy Hamilton who preface his report by words of congratulation to his predecessor for well kept records.

Suggestions were received for incorporation in the year's program but no action will be taken until the junior planning committee formed by two members of each troop meets with the program chairman, Miss Catherine Cheadle.

Permission to purchase four hiking tents was given to Mrs. O. S. Iu, chairman of the camping committee. They are to be used at the Day camp and by any troop for overnight hikes.

The organization committee headed by Mrs. Grier Ivory will supplement its supply of literature used by the troop leaders because additional leaders are needed in the council. Professional trainers for the leaders will be arranged by Mrs. Ray Gazlay, training committee chairman.

Sums of money to be allowed each committee during the year will be set and announced later when the budget has been completed.

Mrs. Agner Dehlin and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Indian Lake Road, were hostesses to forty guests recently at a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Marian J. Six tables of luncheon were in play during the evening after which the guests gathered in the dining room where a delicious buffet lunch was served. Mrs. Grace Rivers won first prize in bunco and Mrs. Myrtle Man-penalties.

Grades to be delivered are bin run, culls included. Potatoes rank with corn silage as feed and perhaps four or five pounds will take the place of one pound of grain. Less hay is required when potatoes are being used as a supplement. At this price, it should be profitable to use potatoes for this purpose.

By taking the lower grades and surplus potatoes off the market, it is felt that the interests of all will be met as it is one way of turning them into meat and milk, both of which are more in demand at this time.

GIRL SCOUTS PLAN RALLY

All Troops In City
To Participate

Plans for the observance of the 37th birthday anniversary of Girl Scouting in America were furthered this week at meetings of the Girl Scout Leaders' Association and the Manistique Scout Council. The leaders met Monday night at the home of Mrs. William Sheahan, Range street, and the council met Tuesday afternoon at the high school.

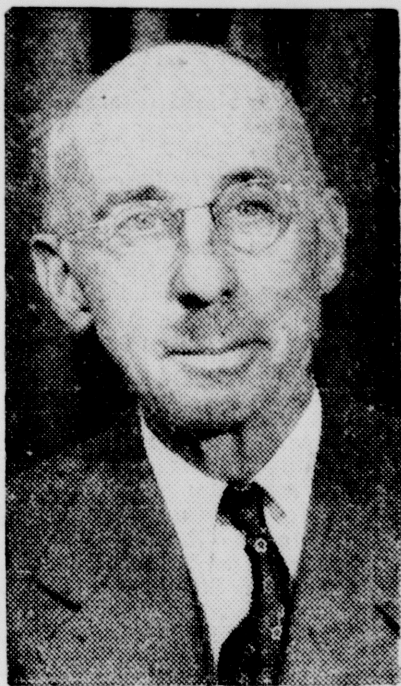

A rally, at which all troops of the city will participate will be held Saturday afternoon, March 12, at the Lincoln school from 2 till 4 p. m. Each troop will present a skit or stunt as their part of the program, and refreshments will be served by the older Scouts. All mothers of Scouts, and persons interested in Scouting, are cordially invited to attend the rally.

Donations by the various troops for the Juliette Lowe fund will also be received on March 12. Every Scout contributes a penny for each year of her age, the money to be of her own earning. This fund is used for the furthering of Scout activities nationally, and at home. The local troops are also providing a layette to be sent abroad as their observance of the birthday of Scouting, and this is to be completed by rally day.

A plea was made by the leaders to assist with the troops. Any persons wishing to help are urged to notify Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur, Scout commissioner.

The leaders are now supplied with uniforms, purchased thru funds earned by their organization, with the belts furnished by the council. The uniforms are of the Scout green color, one piece style, with white piping at the neckline, and green leather belts. They present a very attractive appearance.

Mrs. Lloyd Neville will entertain the leaders at their next meeting, to be held at her home on Cedar street Monday evening, March 7.

HEADS CANCER DRIVE—Although an extremely busy man, dividing his time between his local lumbering activities and his classes at the forestry department of the University of Michigan where he is a part time instructor, Russell Watson has accepted to head the fund drive for the Schoolcraft county unit of the American Cancer Society. The drive begins April 1.

Frozen Snow Is Hampering Drift Clearance Here

The city street department is clearing up the last of the snow obstruction left by the recent storm. The work has been impeded not so much by the amount of snow, but the weight of it.

When the plows had shoved the snow to the curb, the damp snow packed and then froze. Cutting through these snow piles with a Sno-Go has been slow work. Two of the city's big trucks were also out of commission shortly after the storm struck.

High School Will Observe Lincoln's Birthday, Friday

The one hundred and fortieth birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln will be observed with appropriate exercises by the student body of Manistique high school auditorium next Friday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock.

Of special note on the program will be an address on the Great Emancipator by the Rev. John Safran. Also on the program will be the singing of "Lead Kindly Light," Lincoln's favorite hymn, by the men's quartette. The audience will sing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

'Jake The Barber' Freed After 7-Year Prison Protection

Detroit, Mich., (AP)—The penitentiary which John (Jake the Barber) Factor says gave him refuge from gangsters' vengeance has set him free.

The ex-gambler and alleged confidence man was paroled from the Federal prison at Milan after he had served seven years on a $500,000 mail fraud conviction.

Factor insisted in recent court appeals that he only admitted the mail fraud in order to enjoy the safety of prison.

He was kidnapped for $70,000 ransom in 1933 by gangsters Roger (the Terrible) Touhy and Basil (the Owl) Banghart and at their trial helped to send them to prison for 99 years.

Touhy and Banghart subsequently were recaptured and given additional 199-year terms for their parts in the break of seven convicts from Stateville prison at Joliet, Ill., in 1942.

Scotland is known as "The Land of Cakes."

Peace At Last From PERSISTENT ITCH!

No wonder thousands teased by itchy torment bless the day they changed to Resinol. Here's quick action from first moment—a hissing sense of power that lasts and lasts, thanks to active soothing agents in a lanolin base that stays on. Don't be content with anything less effective than Resinol Ointment.

Toughy and Banghart escaped and were at large when Factor was on trial in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. In fear of their revenge, Factor said, he pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to ten years and fined $10,000.

Touhy and Banghart subsequently were recaptured and given additional 199-year terms for their parts in the break of seven convicts from Stateville prison at Joliet, Ill., in 1942.

Scotland is known as "The Land of Cakes."

NCAA Cage Meet Move To Midwest?

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
New York, Feb. 10 (AP)—Couple of unanswered basketball queries from the Midwest: "Is it true that Detroit and Denver will be new tournament centers this spring?" And "what's the story about the NCAA promising the Chicago stadium one of its sectional playoffs next season?"

This dept doesn't know the pitch, but the Detroit yarn is that a newspaper is trying to steam up an eight-team college tourney next month.

... And they say Denver, which lost the AAU championships is angling for the pro tournament that used to be held in Chicago. ... Also it could be that the Big Nine, whose champs have had to go to New York for the Eastern NCAA playoffs, want to get it in their own backyard.

It's A Raquet
Henry Frnka, Tulane's football coach, is responsible for the tale about his tipping-off tennis coach, Emmet Pare, to a fine prospect in Texas. "He's a straight A student and wants to come to Tulane," Frnka explained. ... Pare, quite interested, noted the kid's name and address. Then a half hour later he returned with the puzzled query: "Henry, why are you so interested in this tennis player?" ... Frnka explained simply: "Because he happened to score 15 touchdowns while playing end for Amarillo high last year."

'La Moose' Takes Off!

PERSONAL ESCORT—Just to make sure the ball goes through the netting, Warren "Moose" Gustafson, Escanaba Eskymo center, appears here to be personally escorting it through the hoop. He is shown eluding the guarding of Larry LaPlant, Gladstone forward, and taking off for a try at the basket. He's really up in the air, n'est ce pas? This and many other Eskymo shots miscued, however, and the Braves went on to win a 49-40 triumph after taking a rousing 18-7 first-quarter lead. The game was played in the Escanaba junior high gym Tuesday night. (Escanaba Daily Press photo)

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

BY JIM WARD

Cuff notes: Prestige of Michigan-Wisconsin league hockey soared two more points when the Soo Indians defeated the Milwaukee Clarks of the International Hockey League, 9-7, Tuesday night in Pullar stadium. Milwaukee went to the Soo determined to avenge a 10-8 loss to Soo in Milwaukee earlier this season and to regain lost International loop prestige. But it was the same result—Soo by two points.

All of which proves that fast hockey is being played in the U. P. these days. The caliber of play in the U. P. Amateur Hockey League has improved considerably this season. It is faster and more wide open than last season. That's the kind of hockey played on big rinks.

State Representative Einar Erlandsen was in Escanaba recently picking up data about enlarging the Escanaba indoor rink. The north side of the fairgrounds exhibition building, which houses the indoor rink, has a temporary wall. The original plans, we have been told, called for a building 60 feet longer. Had two 30-foot sections been constructed in accordance with original plans this area would have its standard-sized rink today.

U. P. league hockey is beginning to draw larger crowds at Marquette's Palestra. A good crowd was on hand Tuesday when the Marquette Merchants defeated SMAC, 5-4, in a sizzler. Wonder how many people will be on hand when Gladstone and Escanaba meet again!

It is not ordinarily done here, but did you know that in the big leagues, hockey pucks are frozen before the game starts? ... All pucks are packed in ice for several days prior to a game. The reason for this pre-game treatment is that pucks slide faster when frozen. They're also harder. A hockey helmet is a pretty good thing to have around.

Communication

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Limit communications to 300 words. Letters must bear signature and address. Name must be published.)

HOCKEY INCIDENT

Sports Editor,
Escanaba Daily Press:
In answer to a few very emphatically phrased communications appearing in Monday's Daily Press concerning an incident at the hockey game in Gladstone between Escanaba and Gladstone, it seems that two Gladstonians over emphasized the point of unsportsmanship on the part of Gene Harris, Esky fans, and Jim Ward.

Mrs. Bette J. DeRoock, a loyal Indian fan, stated that Gene Harris certainly deserved any heckling that he received. She also stated that Escanaba fans heckled Ed O'Leary without hurting his game.

Any person who understands sports to any degree realizes that rivalry creates a certain amount of heckling. And this is within the realm of sportsmanship conduct. However, the point involved did not question the usual heckling given a team, but rather raised the point of organized heckling concentrated on one player. Organized heckling certainly exceeds the bounds of sportsmanship conduct. This was the case at the Gladstone-Escanaba hockey game with Gene Harris bearing the brunt of the attack. Under circumstances like these, a player is justified in my estimation in trying to quiet the hecklers. This I believe answers the question of Gene Harris' "temperamental character." The Hawks, Escanaba fans, and most other Hawk opponents seem to find Harris to be good-natured and friendly.

Mrs. DeRoock also questioned the policies of James Ward which was a thoroughly uncalled for action.

To Mr. Ned Adair, who very sarcastically scorned the appearance in the paper of an excuse for the Hawks hockey loss due to Gene Harris, Esky goalie; I say, can he disapprove that organized heckling is not a just and called for excuse?

An enthusiastic hockey fan, Raymond Berndt, 724 South 12th Street, Escanaba, Mich.

Demarec Has Eyes On $2,000 Check

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 10 (AP)—The $10,000 Texas Open moved into its first round today with two members of golf's current Big Three absent but the other—smiling Jimmie Demarec of Ojai, Calif.—favored to win the $2,000 top money.

Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, the leading money-winner, and Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., who captured two of the five tournaments played this year, were out of action, Mangrum because he chose to take a rest and Hogan because of injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Bill Kennedy of the St. Louis Browns was the only American League pitcher last season to participate in a triple play.

10 Survive Openers In Fast Tourney

Special to Escanaba Press
Milwaukee, Feb. 10—Represented by complete eight-man novice and open teams for the first time, the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves champions came through with flying colors in their opening tests in the Milwaukee regional Gloves tourney here last night.

Ten scrappers who won U. P. titles at the sectional tourney in Escanaba last week are still in the thick of it here, and seven of those 10 already have gained finalist berths.

Those in the finals are Fred Bumbacco, Canadian Soo, 112 open; Joe Brunette, Canadian Soo, 118 open; Dick Nolan, Canadian Soo, 147 open; George Dougherty, Munising, 160 open; Leo Leask, American Soo, 112 novice; Bob Minor, Manistique, 118 novice; and Emmett Fagan, Manistique, 135 novice.

Rod Loses Close One
In one of the best bouts on the night's card, battling Rod Lindstrom, of Escanaba, lost a very close decision to Carlo Mickle, of West Allis, Wis. Lindstrom and Mickle went at it hammer and tongs as the saying goes, for three exceedingly fast rounds. It was a first-rate crowd pleaser, with both punchers landing plenty of hard blows.

Young Bumbacco showed plenty of class in disposing of Norman Johnson, Milwaukee colored fighter, by knockout in the second round. He weakened him with a TKO over Joe Hoffensperger, Fond du Lac, Wis., and to tonight he will meet Arthur Portley, Milwaukee negro, in the 118 finals.

Old Friends
This is expected to be one of the outstanding bouts of the entire tournament. Portley is the lad who won the 112 open championship two years ago, the same time Brunette won the 112 novice. Fighting in the 118 open now, they are expected to give each other a going-over tonight.

John Stroplech, Escanaba lightweight, drew a bye last night and will meet Dick Radish, Milwaukee, in a semi-final open division clash tonight.

Results of U. P. fighters and some of past fights (others not known until tonight):
112 open—Fred Bumbacco, Soo, KO'd Norman Johnson, Milwaukee. In finals tonight.
118 open—Joe Brunette, Soo, TKO over Joe Hoffensperger, Fond du Lac. In finals tonight.

126 open—Jack Andrews, Milwaukee colored fighter, KO'd Vernon Dionne, Marquette, in first round.
135 open—Al Massey, American Soo, drew a bye.

147 open—Dick Nolan, Canadian Soo southpaw, decided Roy Duda, Marshfield, in finals tonight against James D. White, Milwaukee Athletic club southpaw.
160 open—George Dougherty, Munising, won by default over Eugene Duda, Marshfield, (face cut) and will meet Frank Gullon, Milwaukee colored red scrapper, in finals tonight. Oddly enough, Dougherty is in the finals without swinging a glove. He had no competition in the Escanaba sectional meet.

175 open—John Stroplech, Escanaba, drew a bye and will meet Dick Radish, Milwaukee, in semifinals tonight.
Heavyweight open—Fred Bloniarz, Porterville, drew a bye and will meet Darrell Burmeister, Madison, in semifinals tonight.

112 novice—Leo Leask, American Soo, decisioned Melvin Fritz, Fond du Lac. In finals tonight against James D. White, Milwaukee Moose club.
118 novice—Bob Minor, Manistique, won by a first round TKO over Gregory Wittman, Marshfield, Wis., and will meet John Nicholas, Milwaukee, in finals tonight.

126 novice—Norbert Wallender, Fond du Lac, decisioned Wayne Tufnell, Manistique.
135 novice—Emmett Fagan, Manistique, decisioned Don Heintz, Marshfield, and will meet Charles Magistro, Milwaukee AC, in finals tonight.

147 novice—Thomas Running, Fond du Lac, TKO third round over John Ellis, Marquette.
160 novice—Carlo Mickle, West Allis, decisioned Rod Lindstrom, Escanaba.

175 novice—Joe Skrepenski, Fond du Lac, decisioned George Atanasoff, Caspian.
Heavyweight novice—LeRoy Bell, Milwaukee, decisioned John Huska, Manistique.

Mary Agnes Still in Palm Beach Tourney

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 10 (AP)—The 24th annual Palm Beach Women's Championship Golf Tournament entered the second round today with co-medalists Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, and Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., very much in the running.

Yesterday Miss Kirk defeated Bettye Mims White of Dallas, Texas, 4 and 3 and Miss Lindsay had to go 19 holes to trim Mrs. Catherine Fox Parks of Glen Ridge, N. J.

Today's pairings include Carol Dinger of Tiffin, Ohio, vs. Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich.

Baraga Parochials In Munising Friday

Munising, Feb. 10 — Baraga Parochial basketball team, of Marquette, will come to town Friday for a return game with Mather high school's Mustangs. That contest will start at 8:15, with a preliminary game slated for 7 o'clock.

A month ago the Mustangs scored their second win of the campaign with a 44-22 win over the Catholics in Marquette

Escanaba Prep Fives Face Tough Assignments

Escanaba's prep quintets have rugged assignments tomorrow night!

Smarting from their 49-40 loss to a hot-and-cold Gladstone quintet that blew red hot here Tuesday night, the Escanaba Eskymos will journey to Menominee tomorrow night to battle the Maroons, who edged the Eskies by a slim 33-30 count here January 14.

St. Joseph's Trojans, meanwhile, will bump up against big George Peterson and his Eagles on the Stephenson floor. Like the Eskymos, the Trojans are seeking to return to the victory column. On their last outing—last Saturday in Marquette—the Trojans bowed to Gravenet, 40-37.

Negaunee and Marquette meet in the top Great Lakes conference game, with the Miners still feeling the pinch of their 42-33 setback at the hands of Lake Linden, a game that caused Copper Country cage stock to soar a point or two.

In other GL conference games, Sault Ste. Marie will seek its fifth loop victory against Ishpeming, a lower division club. Cellarmates Manistique and Newberry will vie for low place honors in the only other meeting scheduled in the conference.

Meanwhile, Kingsford meets Iron River while Stambaugh treks to Crystal Falls in a pair of Menominee range conference matches. Neither game will greatly affect the Mr. Race, however. The reason: Iron Mountain is riding on the crest of a 7-1 count and has a stranglehold on the loop, four games ahead of second-place Kingsford.

The Iron Mountain boys in the meantime are planning to entertain Ironwood in a no-conference game.

In other non-league events, Negaunee's smart St. Paul squad, which last week handed the once-mighty Mass team its second loss in three years by an 88-59 margin, plays host to an unpredictable Pierce crowd from Marquette. St. Paul's convincing victory over Mass is regarded as the Upper Peninsula's upset of the year.

Organized Baseball Set To Fight Gardella Suit

New York, Feb. 10 (AP)—Organized baseball shook off its historical shyness toward legal action today and prepared to fight the latest attack against its contracts all the way to the supreme court.

The legal structure is challenged in a $300,000 damage suit by Danny Gardella, a pint-sized outfielder now banned from baseball because he jumped from the New York Giants to the Mexican League in 1946.

A U. S. court of appeals ruled yesterday that the suit may be heard. Commissioner A. B. Chandler, one of the five defendants, said baseball attorneys are ready to go to the supreme court if necessary.

Escanaba, St. Joe Draw Byes In Bee Team Cage Tourney

Stephenson, Feb. 10 (Special to Escanaba Press)—Escanaba and St. Joseph's drew first-round byes in the sixth annual reserve basketball tournament that gets underway here Feb. 14. The championship finals will be played Feb. 17.

Gladstone is slated to meet Menominee at 7 p. m. Monday, Feb. 14, and Lourdes and Stephenson will clash at 8:15 Feb. 14.

Escanaba will meet the Gladstone-Menominee winner Feb. 15, and St. Joe is scheduled to meet the Lourdes-Stephenson winner in the second game Feb. 15.

In D-E play, Rapid River and Powers drew first-round byes. Felch meets Rock and Daggett meets Carney in the first round Feb. 14. Rapid River collides with the Felch-Rock winner, and Powers meets the Daggett-Carney victor in the second round semifinals Feb. 15, and the championships in both the B-C and D-E classes will climax play Thursday night, Feb. 17.

Ted Williams May Receive $100,000

Boston, Feb. 10 (AP)—Now that all of his co-magnates have played their highest baseball salary cards, it can be taken for granted that Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey will trumpet them by giving Ted Williams around $100,000 for 1949.

From his usual winter fishing haunts in the Florida everglades, Williams has let it become known that he is about to sign up for "slight increase."

Ted boasts that he never has had any financial disputes with Yawkey and, since he collected about $80,000 last season, it seems safe to predict his new terms will be higher than the $90,000 Dan Topping granted Yankee Joe DiMaggio and the reported $75,000 Bill Veech promised Cleveland hero Lou Beaudreau.

Cleveland—The Cleveland Indians sold outfielder Walter Judich to the Pittsburgh Pirates for an unannounced cash sum.

New York—Tommy Henrich, New York Yankees' outfielder, signed a contract believed to call for $40,000—the fourth highest ever paid a Yankee player.

Stockholm — Czechoslovakian players dominated the world table tennis championships, with Americans losing out in semifinals of men's singles and doubles and women's singles.

PETERSEN CLASSIC
Chicago, Feb. 10 (AP)—Leonard Torrice of Detroit took over third place in the $64,000 Petersen individual Bowling classic today, firing an eight-game total of 1,569. Joe Sinke of Chicago has been the leader since Jan. 23 with an eight-game total of 1,632.

Rangers Blanked By Red Wings, 8-0

(By The Associated Press)

The Detroit Red Wings apparently have no intention of relaxing their grip now that they have a fat 12-point lead in the National Hockey League race.

They showed they have every intention of tightening it, if possible, by sweeping to an 8-0 victory over the next-to-last New York Rangers last night in Detroit.

The runnerup Boston Bruins kept pace with the leaders by thumping the Chicago Black Hawks, 5-3, and Montreal defended its slim third place lead over Toronto by playing the Leafs to a 2-2 draw.

The Red Wings were the boys who really kicked up their heels however.

Before 12,938 howling fans, they racked up five goals in the second period and went on to hand the Rangers one of their worst defeats.

Goalie Harry Lumley racked up his fifth shutout of the season for Detroit. Scoring, meanwhile, was well distributed. The only double scorer was Max McNab, who got No. 4 and No. 8.

Lumley handled 18 shots while Chuck Rayner, who couldn't halt the Red Wings enthusiasts, turned back 22 of 30.

Minard Tops Scorers But Northern Loses

Detroit, Feb. 10 (AP)—Pulling away from a halftime deficit, Detroit Tech rallied to a 59-48 triumph over Northern Michigan's basketball team. It was a scoring duel between Northern's Sam Minard with 21 points and Charles Christensen, who rolled up 19 for Tech.

MICHIGAN IN SWIM

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 10 (AP)—Even though Michigan's swimmers polished off Ala Salle last night with little trouble, they were looking forward today to some stiff competition from Michigan State. There wasn't anything wrong with the Wolverine's 49-26 victory margin over the Pennsylvanians. But when you compared it with Michigan State's 56-19 win over the Fred Hirn and Bill Boddy strengthened Mike's Bar as Jack Beck scored 15 points to pace Mike's to 42-34 win over Wait Window. Ed Hendrickson hit 15 for Wait, 13 of them the second half.

Harnies 45, K-C 33
Sam Schram scored 22 points, 18 of them the second half, to lead Harnischfeger to 45-33 triumph over K-C, despite Ed Trieste's 19 points. Bud Weber hit 10 for the Harnies.

VFW Play Norway Here This Sunday

The Escanaba VFW will play two NMW league games next Sunday. At 2:30 p. m., they will tangle with Norway in Bonifas gym and at 8, they will meet the Hermansville Silver Foxes in Hermansville.

Last weekend, the VFW lost to the strong Beau Chateaux in Negaunee, and they're eager to get back into winning stride for the remainder of the NWM pennant chase.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all the kind relatives, neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved father, Theophil DesRochers. We are very grateful to the staff of St. Francis hospital and to the friends for their many kind acts and comforting words, to those who served as pallbearers, donated the use of their cars, sent floral and spiritual bouquets, and to all others who aided us in so many ways. The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us.
